*The Inge Uhler
Environmentalist of the Year:
Betty Mackenzie*

Betty MacKenzie is a recent arrival in Waltham. Since moving to Hardy Pond in 2015, she has become an active steward of the pond, a strong advocate for its protection and a great neighbor. She has extensive knowledge of plants, birds and other wild life and has shared her knowledge by leading several walks for the Land Trust. She is also leading walks at the Cedar Hill Girl Scout Camp where she is a volunteer on Fridays beginning November 2.

The crew worked late into the evening to finish dredging before the winter freeze.
